RRTC to help co-sponsor International Summit on Dementia and Intellectual Disability

The National Task Group on Intellectual Disability and Dementia Practices, along with the RRTCDD, is working with colleagues in Scotland at the University of the West of Scotland (UWS) and Alzheimer's Scotland to organize an 'international summit' on ID and dementia geared to developing a major international policy statement on a number of areas related to dementia and adults with ID, including human rights and the CRPD, nomenclature, advanced dementia, end-of-life care practices, aiding family caregivers, community dementia capable care practices, and advocacy for inclusion of persons with ID in national Alzheimer's plans. The logistics are still in progress, but the dates are October 13-14, 2016. The meeting will be on the UWS-Paisley campus just outside of Glasgow, Scotland. We anticipate a number of international colleagues attending the 'summit' coming from Europe and North America. However, as the summit will be discussion-based and is designed to produce a product spaces will be limited. More information will be forthcoming on the NTG's website (www.aadmd.org/ntg), but this is an invitation to go and be part of this significant event. Travel is self-funded, but the folks in Scotland will be offering some subsidization for local expenses. If you are interested in being part of the American delegation to this international event, let us know, as we will need to submit a list for the official invitations. Contact Dr. Janicki [mjanicki@uic.edu] for more information or to express an interest in attending.
